

Johnny Zhao Jikuan -Business Development Director

Johnny graduated as bachelor of Science in mechanical engineering in 2003 from the University of Shandong. He started his career in a car components manufacturer as quality manager to develop the QS9000 quality system in the factory. Johnny has extensive knowledge on quality systems and realizes the importance of the production process control for a final good and stable quality result.

In 2004, to develop his commercial, logistical and team management skills, Johnny started to work in a Dutch trading organization Prins for the production and delivery of casting, forging & powder sintering parts in the role of assistant of Dutch general manager in Shanghai.

In this role Johnny has acted for six years and managed an extensive network of relationships consisting of more than 60 foundries and logistical companies. During this time as management assistant the organization grew to 20 staff including quality engineers located at the various production sites. Together with the European commercial team of Prins Johnny has developed excellent commercial skills being part of almost any negotiations and customer visit in China.

Johnny started Chinforce in 2010.
